

♥ YOUR DOG IS A ♥ HEARTWORM WARRIOR! ✨

Thank you for giving this dog a second chance! ♥

This handout explains the heartworm treatment your dog has completed and what to expect during recovery.

WHAT YOUR DOG HAS BEEN THROUGH

Your dog has completed our full 3-phase heartworm treatment protocol — a serious medical process that takes dedication and time. Here's what the protocol looks like:

PHASE 1

Two weeks of treatment to weaken the heartworms prior to injection treatment.

PHASE 2

Injections given over 2 days to eliminate the adult heartworms.

PHASE 3

Additional treatment and recovery time to support healing — your dog may still be finishing this phase.

Give any medications as directed by your veterinarian.
Always complete the full course as prescribed.

REST IS PART OF RECOVERY

This is one of the most important things you can do! As your dog's body heals, strenuous activity can cause complications. For the next several weeks:

Leash walks only — no running, jumping, or rough play.

No off-leash yard time — excitement can raise the heart rate dangerously.

Keep it calm and cozy — your dog will love the extra snuggles!

SIGNS TO WATCH FOR WHEN TO CALL YOUR VET

Most dogs do great during recovery! However, contact your veterinarian promptly if you notice any of the following:

- Coughing, labored breathing, or persistent gagging
- Extreme lethargy or sudden weakness
- Loss of appetite lasting more than a day
- Swelling, pain, or discharge at the injection site
- Vomiting, diarrhea, or unusual behavior

6-MONTH RETEST — THE FINAL VICTORY LAP! 🏆

We recommend that your veterinarian perform a heartworm antigen test 6 months after treatment completion. This confirms that all the heartworms have been eliminated.

A negative result means your dog is officially heartworm-free — reason to celebrate!

You made all the difference! ♥

Thank you for being your dog's hero! ♥
